

6-2)

A flat, square, 75-turn coil of wire is rotated from having its plane perpendicular to an external, uniform magnetic field to being parallel to the field. If the rotation occurred in 0.3 seconds, what average emf was generated in the loop? The magnitude of the B-field is 0.5 T and the side of the square loop is 35 cm.